BRITISH WILL SUPPORT SINKING ENEMY CRAFT

Strong Opposition To Be Made By Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — Press dispatches from Paris saying that the American peace delegates with British support will urge the sinking of the surrendered German warships as the solution of the problem of their disposition to the initiation of steps today in the senate to be obtained in official statement of the facts and to wide discussion in naval circles. At the state and navy departments no information was available, Secretary Daniels repeating his previous statement that he had never heard the suggestion officially, while at the state department it was said that so far as known there was no such subject included in the American peace program.

The first published suggeston that the ships be sunk came from London several days ago but even before that it was learned this had occurred to some navy officials here as one possible way of settling a vexing problem.

Benson's Views

Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations and designated as naval adviser to the American peace delegation, has been in Europe some time. His views worked out with vice-Admiral Sims and officials of the British admiralty and the French ministry of marine will have great weight with the American delegates on naval questions arising at the conference but there is nothing here to indicate what conclusion he may have reached on the disposition of the surrendered craft.

There were many indications today that a proposal to sink the ships would meet strong opposition in congress. The Paris dispatch prompted Senator Lodge to introduce today a resolution calling on the state department for information as to whether the American delegates are advocating destruction of the enemy ships and if so by what authority.

The resolution was left on the table without discussion and Senator Lodge may touch upon the subject in an address he announced today he would deliver in the senate Saturday.

Oppose Sinking

While the impression has been given that the navy department probably would not look with favor upon sending the German ships to the bottom, some officers pointed today to practical obstacles to absorption of the surrendered vessels by the allied and American navies. They said that owing to differences in design and equipment the capital craft of the German fleet and those of any other naval power the military value of the ships to the victors is far from as great as might be thought. The German ships were but it was explained on theories that differ fundamentally from British, American, French or Italian ideas of naval construction. Only in the case of the most modern German dreadnaughts or battle cruisers one officer said would the extensive reconstruction necessary to make them part of the homogeneous fighting fleets be justified.

As a peace element of the navies of the associated powers some officers were inclined to think that the chief value of the majority of the surrendered capital craft would be as trophies of the victory, to be pointed to as an object lesson to any other power that might become swelled with ambition for world conquest.

It was recalled however, that some of the Spanish ships sunk by the American ships at Santiago in 1898 were raised and used by the American navy and that also Japan made similar use of Russian ships captured in 1904 after rebuilding them.

At the outbreak of the world war, Great Britain commandeered a number of warships building in England and Scotland for Turkey and other foreign countries, including some South American republics and these were actively engaged with the grand fleet during the war.

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG LEAVES $50,000 ESTATE

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Ella Flagg Young, for many years head of the Chicago public schools and possibly the most famous woman educator in the country, left an estate of $50,000, all of which goes into a trust fund for the benefit of four women teachers formerly associated with her.

AMBASSADOR DAVIS DINES WITH KING

London, Wednesday, Dec. 18.—After presenting his credentials to King George today, John W. Davis, the new American ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Davis, had luncheon with the king and queen Mary at Buckingham palace.

WARM IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Chicago experienced its warmest Dec. 19 in forty one years today, when, according to the weather bureau the mercury touched 56 degrees above zero at 2 p. m. On Dec. 19, 1877, it was one degree warmer.

Joffre Numbered Among France's Forty Immortals

PARIS, Dec 19—Marshal Joffre now is formally numbered among France's forty immortals. The victor of the Marne was made a member of the French academy this afternoon.

Promptly upon the stroke of one Marshal Joffre arrived at the institute.

With the knowledge that President Wilson was to attend the function, acting as an added attraction, great crowds had gathered all along the route followed by the marshal — crowds whose cheers were divided between the great soldier, the chief figure of the event, the American president, and President Poincare of France. The French president attended merely as a private citizen and fellow academician.

Marshal Joffre wore the undress uniform of a marshal of France, having demurred at wearing the elaborate costume of an academician.

"It is as a marshal of France that I enter the academy," said the noted soldier. "And it is dressed as such that I shall present myself there."

BULLETINS

LONDON, Dec. 19. — (British Wireless Service).—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British armies in France and Belgium attended by Generals Plumer, Rawlinson, Bierdwood, Byng and Horne, who were his mainstays in aiding to defeat the Germans, reached London today and was accorded a notable welcome.

HUN PROPAGANDISTS ARE STILL AT WORK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—German propaganda aimed at the United States and conducted by a Professor Brinkman at The Hague still is at work, the state department was informed today in a despatch from the Netherlands capital. Officials here assumed that the information sent from The Hegue to explain the spreading of reports that the United States and the Allies are not in agreement over certain issues to be dealt with at the peace conference. The report to the department said Professor Brinkmann is being liberally supplied with money and that a vicious anti-American document is being circulated by the Brinkmann bureau. The money to pay the expenses of the propaganda office is being expended thru German official channels according to the state department's statement.

EMPEROR CHARLES AND FAMILY HAVE INFLUENZA

Copenhagen, Wednesday, Dec. 18—Former Emperor Charles of Austria Hungary and four of his children are suffering from influenza, according to a telegram rom Vienna. The former emperor has a high fever.

Latest reports have been that the former Austrian imperial family was at Castle Eckartsau, near Vienna.

CHEVRONS FOR DISCHARGED SOLDIERS

Washington, Dec. 19.—Secretary Baker today directed that each soldier honorably discharged be furnished with two scarlet chevrons to be worn on the left sleeve as a recognition of his service to the country. The chevrons will be of the same size and shape as those prescribed for service abroad.

SPARGO LETTERS SHOW SOCIALISTS TO BE DISLOYAL

Name of Frank Walsh Brought Into Case of Five Leaders

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Letters from John Spargo in which he declared that the attitude of the Socialist party since the beginning of the wah has been unneutral, un-American and pro-German, were read to the jury today by counsel for the government during the cross-examination of Adolph Germer, general secretary of the national Socialist party at the trial of five Socialist leaders for violation of the espionage law.

Spargo in one letter said that the call for the St. Louis convention of the party held in April, 1917, at which the proclamation and war program platform were adopted, read as if it might have been written in the German foreign office. He protested aginst convention being held in St. Louis "one of the largest German cities of the United States."

Spargo was a member of the executive committee of the National Socialist party but resigned in May, 1917, and later was sent abroad as a member of a labor committee by President Wilson.

Adolph Germer, a defendant was on the witness stand all day and still under cross-examination when the court adjourned.

Name of Walsh Brought In.

The name of Frank P. Walsh, former head of federal industrial relations commitee and until recently chairman with William H. Taft of the federal war labor board, was brought into the case by Germer. He said that Walsh, Clarence S. Darrow and Seymour Stedman were present at a meeting of the executive commitee of the national Socialist party in Chicago in July ,1917, at which the espionage law and certain literature being distributed by the organization was discussed. He said that a committee composed of Walsh, Darrow, Stedman, Engdahl and himself was named to go to Washington to protest against the action of the post office department in suppressing the American Socialist.

Germer admitted that millions of copies declared by the government as seditious had been distributed by the Socialist party. A speech delivered in congress by Representative William E. Mason of Illinois urging the repeal of the selective draft law was read into the record by Attorney Stedman.

Germer in his direct examination denied ever having received any money from German sources to oppose the war. He said every dollar expended was contributed by the membership of the Socialist party. He denied responsibility for alleged anti-war articles published in the American Socialist altho admitting he was business manager of the paper. He said the conduct of the editorial policy of the paper was directed by the executive committee of the party and J. Louis Engdahl, the editor one of the defendants.

Question Germer Speech.

Questioned in regard to the speech he delivered in Chicago August 10, 1917, which resulted in his arrest, Germer denied every statement attributed to him by witnesses for the government.

"I read from a signed article by Theodore Roosevelt in which he denied that the kaiser was responsible for the war and said it would be a calamity if the German nation was crushed as a result of the conflict," said Germer. "Roosevelt said the German people were responsible for the war. I commented on this statement and said that if a Socialist had made such a statement he would be arrested. I also read extracts from President Wilson's addresses defining peace without victory and said that I approved of the statement."

CONVICT MANY FIRMS FOR PROFITEERING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — Conviction of 16 firms in four Conviction of 16 firms in four of profiteering was announced by the food administration as evidence that violation of its regulations is being dealt with severely. The penalties for the violations which occurred in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, New York and Arkansas, consisted of suspension of business and the compelling of contributions to the Red Cross and other relief agencies.

STECHER IN FINE CONDITION

Chicago, Dec. 19. — Twenty pounds heavier than when he joined the service, Joe Stecher, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, received his discharge from the navy at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station today and departed for his home in Dodge, Neb.

Stecher, weighing 220 pounds, said he was in the best condition of his career.

PLANS FOR BIG PEACE MEETING NOT SHAPING AS RAPIDLY AS EXPECTED

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Definite plans for the peace conference are not shaping as rapidly as some of the American commissioners expected. Meanwhile President Wilson is taking advantage of the opportunity to assess public opinion in France and incidentally in Great Britain. His advisers say that he is entirely satisfied that these peoples are largely in accord with the principles he has announced as necessary to a durable peace.

The members of the American mission are employing their time before the peace delegates from the various countries actually assemble in a series of informal conferences which eventually will include a representative of each of the entente belligerents. Neutral states will not come into these discussions.

The feeling among all the entente conferees is that the making of peace should be first task, so that they may determine upon the broad outlines of a league of nations, which later, representatives of neutral countries will assist in completing.

While the American commissioners are holding these informal exchanges which are designed to clear up divergencies of opinion, the president is constantly giving the closest attention to immediate problems. He is receiving reports from the United States, from American diplomatic agencies thruout the world and from the group of investigators brought here for the purpose of studying the many special problems which will arise. These investigators are continuing their studies with the advantage now of being on the ground and in intimate contact with original sources of information.

The president may change the program of his movements while awaiting the opening of the conference. It was not supposed until today that he would visit England before the new year, but he has received urgent invitations to come soon.

DESCRIBES WORK OF PROPAGANDIST THRUOUT WORLD

New York Attorney General Spends Day Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Propaganda machinery set up by the German government in Berlin and thruout the whole world to spread Germanic ideas and the methods of financing this in the United States were described today to the senate investigating committee by Albert L. Becker, deputy attorney general of New York. The witness also told of his investigation for the French government of the success of Bolo Pasha, executed as a French traitor in getting $1,683,000 of German money in this city for purchase of the Paris Journal but added that since apparently the Paris Journal did not change its attitude of loyalty toward France the transaction was a pure swindle of the German government. Mr. Becker read documents gathered partly by the British secret service showing that the German foreign office and other government departments at Berlin maintained elaborate systems both before and after the European war began to influence thought all over the world, working mainly thru the press. Branches of German banks and commercial houses combined in vast cohesive organization to promote friendly relations toward Germany. Journalists, college professors, bankers, business men and commercial consular attaches—many of them big cities of the country.

Started Work Before War

As early as 1909 said Mr. Becker George von Skal a former German reserve officer and later auditor of accounts of New York City was told on a visit to Berlin by a representative of the foreign office, press bureau, that he would be valuable in case of a future war to keep in touch with the press.

The German government in May, 1914, three months before the war opened, tried in vain to buy the Ottoman Telegraphic News Agency, with headquarters in Bagdad to spread German propaganda. The publication of a German edition of Current Literature, a magazine of which George Sylvester Viereck in the United States and his father, Louis Viereck in Berlin, were promoters was mentioned by the witness together with the Germanic Museum at Harvard and the movements to exchange professors with American universities as German propaganda moves.

One example of enemy propaganda said Mr. Becker, consisted of the systematic effort made late in 1917 to spread thruout the world the idea that Germany was on the verge of internal revolt and that the kaiser would soon be overthrown.

Intended to Stop War.

The fact that the dissemination of these reports was encouraged by the chief German censor was convincing effort that the propaganda was intended to paralyze the prosecution of the war in Mr. Becker's opinion. He said that these reports had been sent out of Germany by George T. Odell, correspondent of the New York Evening Mail after the United States entered the war and were circulated widely by the McClure newspaper syndicate described as a subsidiary of the Mail.

Mr. Becker said the Transocean News Agency maintained a wireless service intended to influence mainly South American peoples while the German South American Institute subsidized by the German government had similar functions.

REPEAL OF 2ND CLASS POSTAGE RATES ADOPTED

Senators Hope to Finish Work of Revenue Bill Soon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—By adopting the finance committee amendments to the war revenue bill affecting second class postage and insurance companies the senate today cleared the way for disposal of the few other contested but important features remaining. Leaders now have increased confidence of passing the bill before adjournment next Monday.

By a vote of 34 to 22 the senate approved the committee amendment proposing repeal next July 1 of the present zone system of second class postage rates and substitution of a rate of one cent per pound within 150 miles and one and one half cents beyond. Most of the day was spent in spirited discussion of this amendment and one by Senator McKellar of Tennessee for a modified zone plan which was rejected without a roll call.

The senate also approved the committee plan for new rates on casualty, fire, marine and other insurance companies, except life insurance. The new rates based on premium receipts are respectively:

Fire insurance companies 1¾ per cent; casualty, plate glass and similar companies, 1½ per cent; and marine 2¼ per cent on inland and 1¾ per cent on export policies.

Minor Changes Mades

Disposal of these and many minor changes left virtually only the income, war excess profits, inheritance and luxury tax sections to be considered. A substitute for the committee's bill, proposing large tax increases, principally on big incomes and war excess profits was introduced late today by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, Republican who is expected to make a lengthy address tomorrow in its behalf.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa and others are prepared to urge reinsertion of the 20 per cent tax on luxuries.

Besides these questions that of prescribing 1920 tax rates, opposed by Republicans, remains for disposition. On the roll call on adoption of the second class postage amendment, thirteen Democrats and twenty one Republicans supported the new periodical rates with fifteen Democrats and seven Republicans in opposition.

The roll call on the second class postal amendment which would become effective July 1 follows:

For adoption — Democrats — Fletcher, Gerry, Henderson, Hitchcock, Jones of New Mexico; Kendrick, Martin of Virginia; Pollock, Ransdell, Simmons, Smith of Maryland; Swanson and Underwood. Total 13.

Republicans — Borah, Calder, Dillingham, Fernald, France, Harding, Johnson of California; Jones of Washington; Knox, Lodge, McCumber, McLean, McNary, Moses, Page, Penrose, Poindexter, Sherman, Smoot, Spencer and Weeks. Total 21. Total for 34.

Against adoption—Democrats—Beckham, Hardwick, Johnson of South Dakota, Kirby, McKellar, Martin of Kentucky; Myers, Nugent, Pomerene, Shafroth, Sheppard, Smith of Arizona, Thomas, Trammell and Vardaman. Total 15.

Republicans—Curtis, Gronna, Kellogg, Kenyon, LaFollette, Norris and Sutherland. Total 7. Total against 22.

Geneva, Dec. 18.—The German communes of Bussingon and Jesteten, near Schaffhausen, are agitating to be attached to Switzerland.

PIEZ ADVOCATES COMPLETION OF HOG ISLAND PLANT

Manager of Shipping Board Urges Continuance of Program

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Advocating the completion of the Hog Island Shipbuilding plant, Charles Piez, general manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet corporation today gave the senate interstate commerce committee details of the expenses of the plant which he said would cost $63,300,000. The minimum fees to be paid the American International Corporation for construction of 180 ships, costing $256,000,000, Mr. Piez testified will amount to about $8,910,000.

In view of increased expenses, he said the fees will amount to only slightly more than two per cent on the cost of production.

"Does the emergency fleet corporation propose to go on building ships at the present cost?" asked Senator Harding.

"We have not been instructed otherwise. It would be an expensive operation to quit now."

"Would you go on if it was your private enterprise?" Senator Harding asked.

"I believe I would."

When the witness said the approximate cost of these ships would be about $225 per ton, Senator Harding declared this was two or three times what other countries are paying.

Mr. Piez said England now pays about $140 per ton and that the emergency fleet corporation had been contracting for cargo ships at about $190 a ton, the cost depending on the type of ship.

Replying to a statement made by Senator Harding the contracts for ships had been awarded to meet the war emergency. Mr. Piez said the emergency for ships had not passed and he recommended going ahead to meet the world tonnage shortage which he estimated at 20,000,000 deadweight tons.

The witness testified that the Quistconck, the first ship completed at Hog Island, was launched August 5, when about 65 per cent riveted. This, he said, was necessary to carry out the launching program which was attended by President Wilson. Senator Johnson suggested that the launching had been for propaganda purposes.

Mr. Piez described the progress on the wooden ship building program. He said 134 vessels of that class had been completed, 133 launched, 169 were on the ways, while contracts for 160 had been cancelled. In addition, the board cancelled contracts for twenty steel ships, one hundred wooden barges and suspended work on ninety seagoing tugs.

Mr. Piez warned the committee against drawing conclusions regarding the board's work based on present conditions, declaring that when the contract for the Hog Island plant was awarded the U-boats were sinking between seven and nine million tons a year while only two millions were being produced.

Charles M. Schwab also was present today but Mr. Piez' statement occupied the entire session.

SOCIETY OF NATIONS PLANNED BY FRENCH

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Baron D' Estournelles de Constant today gave The Associated Press the French plan for bringing about a society of nations which the baron and Senator Leon Bourgeois, formerly French premier, presented to Premier Clemenceau several days ago. The French premier gave assurances that the principle of a society of nations would be inscribed at the head of the French program before the peace congress.

The baron handed the premier a letter which said in part:

"We are convinced that a durable peace can be assured only in substituting for a reign of force that of an organized right. It is the object of our association to aid in the constitution of a society, first of part and then of all the nations. This society should, according to the recent declarations of President Wilson be a most essential party in securing the maintenance of peace."

URGE INCREASE OF FEDERAL BANK SURPLUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Appearing before the house banking committee today in support of Chairman Phelan's bill to amend the federal reserve act, Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, urged immediate legislation, authorizing increase of federal banks' surplus to 100 per cent of their paid-in capital stock.

Governor Harding said the banks' activities have been so remunerative that several banks if the proposed legislation if authorized would have 100 per cent surplus January 1 and that all would have that surplus by next July 1.

Governor Harding explained that additional security for the $2,500,000,000 of outstanding federal reserve notes as well as an increase in the federal system to compete with foreign financial concerns in future financing would be made possible by the legislation.

American People Must Get Ready For More Loans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Confidence that the American people will in no wise relax their efforts towards meeting the government's immediate financial requirements was expressed by Secretary Glass in a statement tonight partially outlining the policy of the treasury under his administration. Plans for meeting government expenditures as have been outlined by Former Secretary McAdoo, including the offering of another liberty loan, the continuing of the sale of war savings certificates and the retaining of organizations for the sale of such securities will be carried, he said.

"I am sure that the treasury department can with confidence offer another Liberty loan," said the statement which was addressed to the American people, "and continue the sale of war savings certificates knowing that the organizations will respond once more to the call for service and will at once prepare the ground and sow the seed so that the harvest may be abundantly faithful. Government expenditure during the current physical year up to and including Dec. 16, when Mr. Glass assumed office have exceeded $9,600,000,000, the secretary said. Expenditures for November were nearly two billion dollars and for December to and including the sixteenth, exceeded one billion dollars.

The proceeds of the fourth Liberty loan so far received have all been spent, Mr. Glass said and the remaining installments will be needed for maturing treasury expenditures of the government for the current fiscal year, recently placed at eighteen billion dollars by Mr. McAdoo have been spent in the first five and one half months. Bills for production of war materials which had reached the peak at the time the armistice was signed, must be paid and the great expense of demobilizing the army met.

In view of these facts, Secretary Glass said another Liberty loan must be issued before the end of the fiscal year next June, the sale of war savings stamps and certificates must be pushed more energetically, and the habits of thrift formed during the war must be continued.

PRESIDENT WILL SIGN BILL ABROAD

First Resolution of Congress Requiring Wilson's Signature Taken to France by Courier—All Measures Will be Acted on in This Way.

Washington, Dec. 19.—The first resolution of congress requiring the president's signature adopted since President Wilson sailed for the peace conference has reached him in Paris and word that it has been signed is expected momentarily at the white house.

Secretary Tumulty was notified by cablegram today of the arrival of a state department courier who had in his packet the joint congressional resolution authorizing the usual Christmas time advance payment of December salaries to government employes. Without the president's signature it would become law Saturday in time for the payments, but the signature probably already has been attached.

This proceeding is to be followed in the case of all acts of congress while the president is abroad. State department messengers travel to and from Europe at frequent intervals, making the trip across in about a week. Before they start the president is given a comprehensive outline of the legislation by cable or wireless, so that he is prepared to act as soon as the document reaches him. He has ten days in which to sign or veto, and unless he does one or the other the legislation becomes effective without his signature.

The president, holding that he surrendered none of his functions of powers by being abroad, is said to have no doubt about the legality of the course mapped out. The engrossed copies of bills and resolutions are forwarded to him as they go to the white house from the capitol.

GERMANY RUINED FOR GENERATIONS

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Germany is ruined for generations, politically, industrialy and economically, Dr. Walter Rathenau, president of the German General Electric Company is quoted as declaring to the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Express. It is the greatest calamity that has happened to any country in two thousand years added Dr Rathenau, who is one of the largest employers of labor in Germany.

"If the indemnities are high we shall have nothing with which to expand our industries and there will be a great tide of emigration, probably to South America, the Far East and certainly to Russia. The result will be the Balkanization of Europe."

DIRECTORS OF KRUPP WORKS ARRESTED

Amsterdam, Dec. 19.—Three of the principal directors of the Krupp munition works at Essen, including Dr. Bransenberger, inventor of the "big Berthas" have been arrested by the revolutionary committee in that city, according to advices received here.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN ITALIAN KING BY PARIS

Pays Visit to President Wilson At Murat Mansion

PARIS, Dec. 19.—King Victor Emmanuel, accompanied by the heir to the Italian throne, the Prince of Piedmont, and a small personal guard, arrived in Paris today. A warm welcome was given the Italian monarch by President Poincare, Premier Clemenceau and the other ministers and the throngs in the streets acclaimed him vociferously as the procession left the station and went to the Italian embassy.

This evening the king paid a visit to President Wilson at the Murat mansion. It had been expected that Victor Emmanuel and President Wilson would meet for the first time at the luncheon to be given in honor of the king by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, tomorrow, and that they would again come together and possibly find time for conversation at a dinner to be given at the Italian embassy by the king to the president Friday evening.

The visit of the king took place at six o'clock. The conversation the monarch and the president which is said to have been most cordial, lasted half an hour. Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sinnino will meet President Wilson at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Glad to Meet Wilson

Speaking to a group which surrounded him this afternoon, King Victor Emmanuel said that besides coming to Paris to visit the French people and government, he was very glad to be able personally and officially to invite President Wilson to be his guest at the Quirinal and that he had been requested by Queen Helena to extend the same invitation to Mrs. Wilson.

Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather with its squalls of cold rain and wind, crowds gathered along the route from the station to the embassy to greet the fourth ruler who has visited France in the past fortnight. So dense were the crowds that thousands were unable to get a glimpse of the king and heir apparent. As the salute of 101 guns was being fired the king and Prince of Piedmont were cheered loudly. President Poicare and the French ministers also were enthusiastically applauded and often forced to lift their hats.

The Italian colony was out in force to receive the king.

Members of the American expeditionary forces also participated in the welcome to Victor Emmanuel. In heavy motor trucks they lined the streets overlooking the route of the procession. In addition to soldiers the trucks contained hundreds of army nurses. All the Americans cheered lustily as the procession passed and frequently there were shouts in French of "vive Italy, vive le Roi."

President Poincare tendered a luncheon to the king at the Elysee Palace. The guests included the Prince of Piedmont, Vittorio Orlando, the Italian premier; Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister; the former French presidents, Marshal Foch and members of the diplomatic corps.

BLAME BRITISH FOR DELAYS

London, Dec. 19.—Commenting upon the reported feeling in Paris that the preliminaries to the peace conference as being unnecessarily delayed and that there is a disposition to blame the British authorities for this, the Times today says there is real need that the inter-allied discussions begin without a day's needless delay. This is especially true, the newspaper thinks as regards the preliminary conversations among the respective leaders, it mentioning in particular President Wilson who comes fresh to the discussions.

FRENCH LOSSES.

Paris, Dec. 19.—Deputy Louis DuBois in the chamber of deputies today during a discussion of a bill dealing with reconstruction and war damages said he estimated the value of French houses destroyed at 20,000,000,000 francs, furniture at 5,000,000,000, agricultural losses at least 10,000,000,000; mines at least 20,000,000,000 and railroads 9,500,00,000. The deputy claimed that these losses should have priority.

WHAT THE CODE MADE POSSIBLE

It is said that it has been possible to reduce the state tax rate this year to 75 cents because of the economies made possible by the operation of the civil administrative code passed by the last general assembly. Gov. Lowden made the adoption of this bill the basis of his campaign. After his election he consistently used his influence for the passage of the bill and it was subsequently enacted into law. Various benefits in the way of more efficient public service have been apparent in past months, but this tax reduction is on which will attract the favorable notice of the people at large. Taxpayers, who are saved $4,000,000, will be of one mind in approving the administrative code if that is responsible for the lower tax rate.

THE SHAME OF THE SOUTH

It is not surprising that senators from Georgia and North Carolina lead the fight in the senate on the adoption of the 10 per cent tax on profits from child labor products entering interstate commerce. This amendment, it is admitted, was fathered by Senators Pomerene, Lenroot and Kenyon, to replace the child labor law a few months since declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

It is the south which has all along profited from child labor and it is a blot upon the name of a number of the southern states that business institutions there flourish because of the labor of children. The records have shown the long hours and the little pay for these children and yet southern politicians year after year have fought legislation which would give proper protection to the children of the states and forbid their being overburdened with toil. The system is a disgrace to the southern states, and the vote of 50 to 12 by which the amendment was carried will be very gratifying to the country at large.

HANGING ON TO UTILITIES

Mention has been made before of test wells which are being sunk at Bloomington in the effort to secure a further water supply. This quest for water, which is not a new thing, has brought to attention the possibility of Bloomington selling its municipally owned water and light plant. The Pantagraph in a recent article says that a wealthy resident of the city has offered to purchase the plant at a figure named by the city. That newspaper goes on to suggest that there is really little likelihood of the offer being accepted.

The high cost of operating the plant is admitted but there are too many advocates of municipal ownership in Bloomington to permit the passing of the water and light plant into private hands. The same feeling exists in most cities where the water and light plant is municipally owned. There are some times charges of extravagances or mismanagement. Now in all these cities there is knowledge of the mounting costs of operation, but nevertheless a great many people are unalterably opposed to the passage of such properties into private hands. They are unwilling for transfer to be made even if the appraised value can be secured, or if there is promise of greater efficiency in operation or lower service prices.

A CHANCE TO ADD TO CHEER

As already noted, the management of the Jacksonville Free kindergarten has not deemed it wise to hold a Christmas entertainment this year for the children of the school. Instead of a program and tree, gifts are to be distributed to the homes of the children. The Jacksonville Free kindergarten is one of the most worthy of the philanthropic enterprises of Jacksonville and has been supported year after year by those most familiar with the work done and those acquainted with that work are well aware that a great deal of lasting good has been accomplished.

The committee has announced publicly that assistance from the public will be welcomed. Men and women of Jacksonville who are looking for some way in which to bring good cheer to some of the children of Jacksonville will find thru the kindergarten this opportunity. Money or goods they contribute will be wisely distributed and will add in certain measure to the Christmas cheer in Jacksonville.

IMMIGRATION NOW ONE OF BIG PROBLEMS

One of the most important questions with which congress must deal is that relating to immigration. It is very likely that there will come a great rush of immigration from Germany and other European countries at no distant date, unless some sort of restriction is built up. Organized labor, it is said is urging congress to place a ban on all immigration for a period of two or three years, because of the fear that the great influx of foreigners sure to come unless there are restrictions, may disturb labor conditions in this country.

There are, however, various questions to be taken in consideration in connection with these proposed restrictions, for the United States is really to be in closer relationship with European countries that ever before. World affairs and world relationships have been entirely changed by the war and it is a question in what light some of the European countries would look at a proposal to bar their people from the United States for a two or three year period.

In connection with this big question it must be settled what is to be the status of immigrants coming from Germany, as to whether or not they are to be allowed admission to the United States and the right to become citizens on the same basis as immigrants from other countries. An especially careful policy must be followed with reference to the admission of some of the peoples from Russia and in various localities where Bolsheviks have held sway.

Altogether the varied question of immigration is one of the biggest that congress faces.

The Surrender

Moving slowly o'er the deep sail the German battleships, and the sailors have to weep as they see their flag's eclipse; verily the head is sore of the Prussian commodore, as he nears the British shore, while the skipper sadly skips. Sad and gloomly as a hearse is the flagship of the fleet, and the other ships are worse, and the captain's got cold feet; 'tis a black and gloomy fate for a navy that was great; says the bosun to the mate, "This is blitzen and repeat." Said the kaiser in his pride, "Prussia's future is afloat; round the world my sword shal ride in a Hozenzollern boat," but his warships sadly sail to a British naval jail, and the stricken sailors wail, "This is where we lose our goat." Oh, the British long had prayed that those ships would come and fight, but the Teutons seemed afraid of old England and her might; so, unblemished by a shot, they are sailing for the spot where the British squadrons squat, and the flag they bear is white. "Oh, our future's on the wave," said old Wilhelm on a day; and that future found a grave where the heaving billows play; there, among the kultured sharks Prussia gave up all her arks, while the captains made remarks that would make your hair turn gray.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

December 20, 1858—Illinois river packet, F. X. Aubury met with a serious accident near St. Louis, boat, supposed to be on fire, general rush to the yawl which was soon filed and not being well balanced it turned and precipitated its contents in the river. Among the list was a German woman and two children who emigrated from Germany and was on her way to Pekin, Illinois.

DEATHS

Curtin.

Thomas Duffner has received word of the death of his little nephew, John Duffner Curtin of Chicago. It will be remembered that Mr. Duffner recently went up to Chicago called by the serious illness which resulted in the death of the child's mother, Mrs. J. J. Curtin, Mr. Duffner's sister.

Meyer.

H. R. Meyer, a prominent business man of Meredosia passed away at his home Thursday evening at 4 o'clock. Ten days ago he and his wife and daughter Pauline were stricken with influenza. Mrs. Meyer and daughter have somewhat recovered. Yesterday Mr. Meyer contracted pneumonia which resulted in his death.

Eight years ago Mr. Meyer moved with his family from Arenzville to Meredosia. He was a manager of the Farmer's Elevator at Meredosia. He was an influential business man and highly respected in the community in which he lived, which has been stricken with sorrow at his sudden death. Mr. Meyer was a member of St. John's Lutheran church at Meredosia.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

WITH THE SICK

George Taylor of South Jacksonville underwent a severe operation Wednesday and at last accounts was getting along all right.

Rev. W. R. Leslie, who is ill with influenza, is improving in a satisfactory way but it will be a number of days before he is able to attend to his pastoral duties.

James Mahon, who has been ill for a number of weeks with rheumatism, is now at the Mahon home near Sinclair and is steadily improving. Mr. Mahon was in Passavant hospital for a time and consulted specialists in other cities.

RELEASING MEN

Only eight more members of the S. A. T. C. unit at Illinois college remain to be discharged, as twenty nine men were released Wednesday. Capt Coon is expecting that the last of the group will receive their discharges today or tomorrow. Practically every case of influenza has recovered and the medical work of the unit has certainly been handled in the best possible way.

DEMAND ABOLITION OF UTILITIES COMMISSION

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 19.—Resolutions demanding the abolition of the Illinois Public Utilities commission were adopted today by the mayors' or representatives of forty downstate cities, who met at the call of Mayor Charles A. Beers of Aledo, to consider methods of securing home rule for the cities over public service corporations. Nearly every official favored taking the control of the corporations from the state. Opinion was divided as to whether the utilities commission should be abolished entirely or whether the present law should be amended to restrict its powers to increase in violation of existing contracts between the cities and the companies.

A permanent organization was formed with Robert L. Watson, city attorney of Aledo, as chairman. A committee of seven to take charge of the fight will be appointed by him. Watson, Mayor H. J. Rodgers of Jacksonville and Commissioner Spaulding of Springfield were appointed delegates to the meeting of the Illinois Municipal League in Chicago.

Plays All Records At Their Best

The Unselfish Gift

No other gift can bring such all-'round pleasure to so many people as The Brunswick Phonograph. The entire family and all one's friends can participate in this enjoyment.

It is for this reason so many people choose The Brunswick as a Christmas gift—and why so many families "pool" their Xmas money; so that all gain far more satisfaction than in receiving small, individual presents.

The tendency this Christmas is "a worth while present for all" rather than "a knick-knack for each."

The Brunswick is an ideal choice. It will prove an ever-present delight for years to come. This super-phonograph plays all records as they should be played—the tone is superb. Hear it today. Decide early. Avoid the rush later.

DEATH CAUSED BY CRUSHING OF SKULL

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 19.—Findings in the autopsy performed today on the body of Frieda Weichman of Chicago that the girl's death was caused by the crushing of her skull, have not cleared up the confusion of circumstantial developments, the police admit in the case of Milo H. Piper, local insurance agent who is charged with her murder. The body was disinterred today at a local cemetery on order of the prosecuting attorney's office. This was the first time since the case was re-opened that a postmortem had been ordered, previous examinations have been merely for identification purposes.

Three physicians who examined the body today declared death resulted from blows struck on the back of the head.

In discussing his marriage in 1903 to Miss Iva Goodenough, a 15 year old scool girl of Benton Harbor, Piper declared today it was a high school love affair, which ended when he left after "trouble with her parents." The couple were divorced.

The Muskegon authorities are continuing their investigation of the Benton Harbor angle of the case and also are pursuing inquiries along the Michigan routs of the journey, Piper admits he and Miss Weichman took in 1916.

It's the quality.

Social Events

Wedding Anniversaries Are Observed.

A very pleasant family gathering took place Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Crum of Literberry. The event was planned in celebration of five wed ding anniversaries and those present will long remember the occasion with pleasure. On December 19, 1872 occurred the marriage of S. H. Crum and Miss Jane Henderson. Ten years later Miss Mollie Henderson and J. M. Liter were married. Twenty years ago the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Crum, Durrell Crum wedded Miss May Liter.

Twelve years ago Ona Crum and Miss Nellie McDonald were united in marriage and five years ago Charles McDonald and Miss Katherine Petefish were married. The day Thursday was spent in a delightful and informal social way. At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served and this feature was one which was thorol yenjoyed by all. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liter of Literbery; Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Petefish, Literberry; Mr. and Mrs. William Henders- Little Indian; Corporal Edward Liter and wife, Literberry and Mr. and Mrs. James McDon- and daughter Ruth of Jacksonville.

Millions Are Weak and Ailing Because of Acid-Stomach

There are any number of people who for years have been sick and ailing, weak, run down and in a poor physical condition who will be surprised—even astounded—to learn that their trouble has been an acid-stomach, which is merely another name for what doctors call superacidity. Yet it is now positively known that acid-stomach is the cause of a very large number of diseases.

Excess acid in the stomach prevents proper digestion and assimiliation, thus causing the blood to become thin and impoverished as a result of which people become sallow-skinned, emaciated and anemic.

Excess acid causes irritation all along the intestinal tract—irritation so severe and aggravating as to frequently result in catarrh and even cancer of the stomach.

Excess acid causes stomach and intestinal fermentation, producing poisons which, absorbed into the blood and carried throughout the system, cause auto-intoxication, insomnia, nervousness, irritability, mental depression, melancholia, dizziness, vertigo and, often times, valvular heart trouble and heart failure.

Yes, many people will be greatly surprised to learn that such a long train of physical ailments can be traced directly to an acid-stomach. But there is no need for surprise. Think what acid mouth does to the teeth. The acid eats right through the enamel—the hardest substance in the human body. And that is exactly what makes teeth rot and decay. No wonder, then, that excess acid in the stomach plays such havoc; causes so much ill-health and misery—makes so many people weak and ailing—unfit for either work or pleasure and brings on premature old age.

So often you have heard the remark: "I've taken all sorts of tonics and medicines and tried many different doctors but nothing seems to help me." Nine times out of ten the person making such a remark has an acid-stomach. And until the excess acid is removed, nothing WILL help. Remove that excess acid and the results are truly wonderful. Health and strength return almost like magic.

You can now rid your stomach of its excess acid. A wonderful modern medicine called EATONIC literally wipes it out. It does the work easily, speedily and thoroughly. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable. It helps you get full strength out of every mouthful of food you eat; and unless you DO get full strength from your food you cannot enjoy robust, vigorous health.

EATONIC is in the form of tablets. They are pleasant-tasting—you eat them just like candy.

Try EATONIC and see how wonderfully different you will feel. See how quickly EATONIC banishes the immediate effects of acid-stomach—bloat, heartburn, belching, food repeating, indigestion, etc. See too, how quickly your general health improves—how much more relish you take in eating—how much more easily your food is digested—how soundly you sleep—how nervousness and irritability disappear. And all simply because, by taking EATONIC, you get rid of a lot of excess acid that has been holding you back and making your life miserable.

This is the help you need. You need it to keep your stomach in a strong, healthy condition so that, in turn, your mind and body will be strong and vigorous.

It is so easy to get this help—and it costs so little. So why suffer another hour when sure, quick relief is at hand? Ask your druggist about it. He knows that tens of thousands of people all over the United States have used this wonderful modern remedy and the results have been nothing short of marvelous. Everywhere people who have used EATONIC testify to its power to bring quick relief. The testimonials of some of these people are so enthusiastic and tell of such remarkable results as to be almost unbelievable.

If you are one or those who have "tried everything," but in spite of it are still lacking in physical strength and vigor, begin at once to take EATONIC. Don't put it off. Get back your physical and mental punch. Have the power and energy to work with a vim. Enjoy the good things of life. Learn what it means to fairly bubble over with health. Like thousands of others, you will say that you never dreamed it possible that such a wonderful change for the better could be brought about so quickly.

So get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. We authorize him to guarantee EATONIC to please you and you can trust your own druggist to make this guarantee good. If EATONIC fails in any way, take it back—he will refund your money. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC write to us direct and we will send you a big 50c box. You can send us the 50c after you receive it. Address H. L. Kramer, President, Eatonic Remedy Co., Corner Wabash Avenue and 11th Street, Chicago, Ill.

CARL WEBER WRITES FROM THE WAR FRONT

Letter to Father Jacksonville Soldier Gives Voyage and Campaign Facts Hitherto Ruled Out By Censor.

Herman Weber was greatly delighted yesterday to receive a Christmas letter from his son, Carl Weber, who is in the army service and now stationed at Montigny, France. Private Weber wrote this very interesting letter to his father in order to carry out his part of the army program whereby each soldier was expected on a certain day to send a Christmas letter to his "dad" back home.

The letter has additional interest for Mr. Weber because he is familiar with the geography of the country where his son is, now located. The letter follows:

Montigny, France.
November 22, 1918.

Dear Father,

Well, here is your "Christmas Letter." Everybody in the office is busy now writing "Father's Christmas Letters", and I hope they will reach home in time to carry out the spirit of the idea.

Last summer in Camp Hancock on Mother's Day, I wrote to Mother, but your turn has come, now, and this one is to you exclusively.

We just learned that the censorship rules are off, and that we can tell some of the things that we have been forbidden to tell, so I will try and think of a few of them.

To begin with, we left Newport News on July 31st, and were twelve days coming over, arriving at Brest, France, on August, 12, and went to the Rest Camp there.

Well, I am a little ahead of my story. I was on an old Italian boat that was called the "America". It was originally an old freighter, and was fixed up as a troop ship after the war began. There were 2,000 Ordnance men, about 400 Quartermaster men and the crew of the ship numbering about 200, on the boat. In all there were, counting officers, 2,696 men on board, I think.

After waiting several days at Newport News for sailing orders we were ordered out one morning about midnight and after packing up all our packs, we marched to the docks and got on board. There were five more ships filled with Infantry and other soldiers being loaded and we sailed about 11:00 a. m. escorted by several little torpedo boat destroyers, or Submarine chasers, and a big battle cruiser.

The harbor was closed with a big net, and as we approached the entrance the tender that manipulated the net opened it for us and we sailed out for the open sea. Right behind us came a tank ship loaded with oil, but not in our party. There were several airplanes overhead looking for submarines as the net was opened and they evidently did not take any chances in letting one slip into the harbor thru the opening.

Well, we were soon on the high sea, after sailing past the big forts at Hampton Roads, and for the life of us we could not tell just where we were going but seemed to be keeping along the coast, and towards the north. A day or so later we met another convoy of four ships and several torpedo boat destroyers or submarine chasers, and they joined our party. I suppose they had come from the North, say Hoboken, and met us half way.

The big battle cruiser led the way, the troop ships were bunched in the center, three in a row, then two in a row, and then three in a row and so on, with the little chasers on outside darting here and there, plunging into the waves, and keeping always on the alert.

At night we put on all speed and all lights were off on the ships. Even wrist watches were banned, and had to be covered up, and one could not smoke on deck. It is a wonder to me that the ships did not run into each other in the intense darkness. Our ship was a fast one, and she fairly trembled as she sped thru the water. Sometimes in the morning we would be far ahead of the others, but they kept together pretty well, some way or other we had no accidents, altho I understand that some convoys had collisions or more or less serious consequences.

Well, it was exciting, as the subs were very active, and we did not know just when a torpedo would hit the ship. I slept away down in the hold, below water line and if one had come along, it would have been all up with me. The third day we were out, a wireless came in that the tank ship that left the harbor with our fleet had been torpedoed. That showed that they were on the American shores. Several other ships were torpedoed along the American Coast during our trip. This added to the interest of the trip.

We were each issued a life preserver and had boat drill each day. We had certain places to report to in case of attack or in drill, and three short whistles meant that we were either torpedoed or it was time for drill, and no matter what we were doing, we had to stop and put on our life preserver and run to our place. The last four or five days, along the Scotch coast and near Africa and France we had to wear them all the time, day and night. It was quite a bother.

Well, one day we had target practice. Our ship had two guns on her. A three inch gun in front, and a four and seven-tenths inch gun in the rear. An Italian gun crew had the front gun, and American gunners had the rear one. We slowed down and one of the submarine chasers got off about a mile and a half and at the end of a long cable towed a contrivance that looked like a periscope and cut a line of foam in the water just like a submarine would do. The gunners had to fire at this "wake" as it is called. They had three shots a piece. The Italians went away over it, but the Americans went a little over, a litle short and then right on the dot!! We thought that if a "Sub" should come, we would like for the Americans to be on the job!! The officer on the chaser who made a record of the shots said that all three shots made by the Americans were "hits", as it seems that 25 yards miss is counted a hit, being sufficient, I suppose, to cause the "Sub" to duck and get away.

The crew were all Italians, and say, they did dish us up some awful stuff to eat. It was horrible, to say the least, and how we all stood it is more than I can tell. The meat was absolutely rotten, and of course everything was steamed. Everybody was seasick, except a few of us lucky ones, and the food did not help them to get well.

One day we had a strange and rather exciting experience. We saw a big ship steering right for us, and could not make out what was the matter. The smoke was rolling from the funnells but she seemed to be going rather wobbly and would roll with the sea. We thought that maybe a submarine was behind it and would dart out and fire and then escape, or that the ship was timed to explode when she got to us. Well, we veered off a little our of our course and shut down, while the big cruiser went out to investigate, with all guns ready to fire the moment anything crooked was observed. One or two of the chasers also went sneaking around her. Well, they signalled and called to the crew, but not a man was to be found on board the ship. She was an abandoned ship, and was going hither and yonder, with nobody to steer her, and still steam was up and as she would roll in the water, we could see her propelier spinning around for all it was worth.

Of course we were all ready for some German trick and had our life belts on and were ready to jump, but nothing happened and to this day no body knows how to solve the mystery. Where, was the crew? Why was the steam up and nobody on board? No one knows. Well after satisfying herself that the ship was not in a position to harm the convoy the warship signaled for us to move on and after we were several miles away she left the ship to her fate and joined us. I cannot understand this peculiar circumstance, as the ship was a fine one, our boat was up close, as we held the outside position in the convoy all the time, and we could all see her plainly as we were within a few hundred yards at one time.

On the afternoon of the tenth day about three o'clock we saw the subs. One of them appeared off to our rear and to the left of us, and immediately the chasers dug out after it. That is two of them did, while the others sped around us in circles ready to go after others. By this time the battle cruiser had left us and had gone back, and so we had to rely on the little chasers. They were terrible speedy boats and almost before you knew it they were back where they saw the sub and were dropping depth bombs. They put on all speed, and go around in a circle and drop the big bombs off of the rear of the boat. The bombs are timed to explode at a given distance under the water, and if a sub is within 125 yards of it in any direction it will crush the shell, or at least spring the bolts and cause it to leak. Well, the boats were fully a mile off when they dropped the first bomb, and I thought our own boat had been torpedoed so violent was the concussion. It rang on our iron hull, as tho another ship had bumped into us. All the fellows down below came up pell mell, thinking that we had been hit, and then stayed to watch the bombs exploding in the water. The water would shoot up fifty or sixty feet every time one would explode, and then in a moment we could feel the concussion on our hull. They dropped about six or eight bombs where they thought the sub was, and scared him off, altho they did not think that they got him.

Well, all went well till the next morning, as we altered our course and went zig-zagging thru the water to fool them. About ten o'clock the next morning the ship right next to ours spied a periscope and fired a gun which struck close enough to it to make it duck. Then the sub-chasers got busy again, and all that day they were kept busy, and dropped about sixty or seventy bombs, I suppose.

We found out afterwards that there were eight subs around after us, and the chasers reported getting two of them, altho they were too far off, say a mile and a half, and we could not tell. Saw a lot of oil on the water as we proceeded tho. The attack was reported by wireless to France, as we were near the coast, and word came back that they would send out every warship and airplane in the harbor to escort us in. Well, that night was a rather exciting one, as we knew they were all around us, and that they had already shot two torpedoes at us, which missed us however.

We zig zagged around all night and early in the morning, we saw two or three warships with observation balloons above them, and a big dirigible sailing around over us, while there were several more little chasers flitting around us. We rode into the harbor that afternoon safely.

The last two or three days we had to stay up till eleven o'clock and had to be up with our life belts on and in our places at four o'clock in the morning. The steward on our ship said that he the same ship carrying troops over but that this was the only one that he had made where he had made three other trips on been attacked by the subs.

There are forty million people in the civilized world starving and we should raise food so they can retain life; there are hundreds of millions more, hungry and should be fed to allay suffering; we have a hundred and ten million of our own people that must be fed, and our corn and wheat belt is but a small part of our acreage.

The country is settled from ocean to ocean and from the lakes to the guilf and instead of our children fencing the land adjoining or going west for their homes; we must divide our farms, and as we divide our farms, in the same ratio will they increase in value. Stop and figure! Our land sells for $200 per acre when you can go other places and get it for nothing, and worth the difference. Our land doubles in value every ten to fifteen years. All farm produce is from three to five times as high as a few years ago and you can pay for a farm easier than ever.

Capital is turning to farms for an investment for the Railroads and Industrials have about reached the requirements of the country.

LAND LOANS RUN THRU LONG PERIOD OF TIME

Amortization Plan Provides Money to Farm Owners Payable in Semi-Annual Amounts For Thirty Three Year Period.

Brief mention was made recently of the presence here of John H. Krafft, a representative of the First Joint Stock Land bank of Chicago. The business of this bank is to lend money on farm lands on the amortization plan. This plan was authorized by the federal farm loan act but loans made by this bank are along somewhat different lines from those made by the farm loan banks.

Runs Long Period.

Under the present plan the borrower is able to secure 50 per cent of the value of his land at 6 per cent interest rate and can pay off the loan together with the interest, in stipulated amounts thru a period of thirty three years. A man who borrows $1,000 on this basis makes a semi-annual payment of $35 which includes interest and a portion of the principal. When the payments at this rate have been made thru a period of thirty three years the entire loan has been discharged. The same rate applies on every $1,000 borrowed so if the loan is for $20,000 the semi-annual payment is $700, and at the end of the thirty-three year period the entire loan has been paid.

The advantages of the plan are that the borrower does not have to worry about renewing his loan every three or five years and thus effects a saving in the costs which are always attached to renewal of a loan, sometimes for commission, always for abstracting and recording.

After a period of five years the borrower if he chooses can discharge the whole loan, so that should there be any lowering of interest rates he will have the opportunity of taking advantage of it. Several of these loans have already been negotiated on Morgan county lands and others are pending.

On Fixed Basis.

The First Joint Stock Land bank of Chicago is doing business in parts of Illinois and Iowa. Other banks organized along the same lines are doing business in other states. The whole plan is under government supervision and has been worked out on a scientific basis and the tables show the exact effect of each semi-annual payment during the thirty three years, indicating the portion that is applied on the principal that remains unpaid.

A number of Morgan county land owners tho not looking for loans have been very much interested in explanation of the plan under which this land bank is operated.

It's the quality.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs", which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company." — Adv.

HUNDREDS OF DOLLS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY

State Hospital Patients Made Them In Clever Designs—Will Be Distributed from Journal Office—Samples On View Today.

As a result of some occupational work done at Jacksonville State hospital several hundred nicely dressed dolls are ready for free distribution among children of Jacksonville. Dr. E. L. Hill, superintendent of the hospital, has encouraged various lines of occupational work at the hospital and a few months ago Miss Carrie Hoppe of Alton was appointed in the position of occupational superintendent. In recent weeks in this work of interesting the women patients Miss Hoppe has had them make Christmas dolls.

It has been pleasing to note the enthusiasm with which these women have entered into the work and the main part of their interest seemed to be based on the fact that each doll was to add to the Christmas pleasure of some child. As a result of their endeavors betwen 400 and 500 of the dolls, made of wood, cleverly painted and then dressed in silk, gingham or wool, will soon be ready for distribution. Several hundred are to go to the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind, and those remaining are for free distribution in Jacksonville.

Will Be Given Away.

The Journal office is to be made the distribution center and the dolls will be ready for distribution tomorrow. A dozen or so samples can be seen in the Journal office window today. Any mother who wants one or more of these dolls for her children can secure them for the asking. Those who know where dolls will add to the happiness of children outside of their own family can secure them. What applies to individuals applies also to organizations and the people of Jacksonville State hospital will be pleased indeed to have applications for the dolls made at the Journal office.

The only matter of importance is to have the 150 or 200 dolls available for this general distribution so placed that they will add to the children's Christmas cheer in Jacksonville this year. If you want a doll for your children, if you want one yourself, if you know of the child of somebody else who wants one of these attractive little dolls, stop in at the Journal office and let your wants be known. The sample dolls as indicated, will be on view today and if you want to be sure of getting one in the distribution Saturday leave your name or the name of the child for whom the doll is wanted and it will be saved for you.

Back of the production of these little Christmas dolls is an important movement in the care of those who are mentally deranged. For some years past efforts along occupational lines have been made in a number of states with satisfactory results. In Illinois, however, there are only three institutions where anything has been attempted in this line and Jacksonville State hospital is one of this small group. Miss Hoppe who had her training at a kindergarten college and at Hull House in Chicago, is now the superintendent of occupational work in the State hospital and has a corps of seven assistants, one or two of whom are patients who have shown special proficiency. Miss Hoppe in discussing her work said yesterday:

Patients Benefit.

"It is our purpose of course to take up occupational work which will be of benefit to the patients. The same occupation is not suited to all the women, any more than the same line of work is to the men. This occupation appeals to one woman and to another it means nothing. So it is our work to try out the several activities and find those to which the patients are the best adapted and, if possible, those which they most need.

"It is desirable in certain cases to bring into play certain muscles of the body and so the occupations chosen vary. For example we may select rug weaving, in which both feet and hands are used, as that which would be most beneficial to some patients. For others basketry brings the best results. And then we have knitting, sewing and other classes of work according to the needs and adaptability of the different patients. The purpose is to give these people something to do, make them happier, improve them physicaly and in some cases effect a cure of the mind. At any rate, occupied in some way or other they are eventually much better off than they would be if simply left to their own devices with nothing to do day after day, week after week and year after year.

Teaching Habits.

"One of the most difficult lines of occupational work we have is in the habit forming classes. It is part of our work to take some of the patients of the lowest type and teach them to brush their teeth, comb their hair and the general habits of personal cleanliness. Distinct advances have been made along these lines and the formation of these habits leads to many other beneficial activities.

"In the making of these dolls the purpose has ben to do something to interest the women and something especially appropriate for the season of the year, and practically all of the women in our occupational classes have been interested in this work. They have done it all. The little dolls were fashioned from wood. The arms and legs nailed to the body in such a way that they are movable. Then the heads and bodies were painted and afterward all of them were dressed.

"As you will notice, there is a great variety of constuming, the result first of scores of odds and ends of material available for dresse, and varying too according to the designing tastes of the women who made the dresses. There was not any trouble about holding the interest of the women during the time required to make these several hundred dolls for they all seemed to enter into the spirit of the work and their only anxiety was to be sure that some child got each of the dolls made."

PINKERTON'S BRAVERY MATTER OF RECORD

Jacksonville Man in Y. M. C. A. Service Overseas Risked Life to Remove Bomb.

Some time since Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp had occasion to take up with the United War Work committee the story of a complaint of the service given abroad by Y. M. C. A. men. In replying to this inquiry the committee sent a considerable amount of subject matter, all of a kind to indicate that the vast majority of the soldiers have been most enthusiastic in their praise of the service rendered by th Y. M. C. A. men. The committee also sent the record of a number of cases of bravery where Y. M. C. A. men had plainly made their own comfort or preservation a matter of secondary interest. It is interesting to note that one of the cablegrams along this line mentioned our own Harry Pinkerton.

This message said: "Henry Pinkerton, Jacksonville, Ill., called 'Dad' by boys, had finger blown off by bomb. Soldiers brought German bomb into the Y. M. C. A. temporary hut saying fuse was removed and that it was safe. Pinkerton picked the bomb up to take it out, declaring that it was not safe. The bomb exploded. Pinkerton's first words on regaining consciousness in the dressing station were: 'Wasn't it fine none of the boys were hurt?'"

The cablegram referred to also told the story of one secretary severely wounded by a shell. Another was gassed and still another was killed while distributing chocolate and cookies. This man had marched constantly with the soldiers and reviewed as a member of the regiment. He was buried on the battlefield with military honors.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN GARLAND, KANSAS.

C. E. Hudgin has gone to Garland, Kans., where he was summoned on account of the death of his step father, Wallace James. The deceased, who was a brother of the late Charles James of this county, was a resident here for a number of years. His death was the result of pneumonia, following a case of lagrippe. Howard James, a son of the deceased, was in training at the Rahe auto school when he was taken down with the grippe and returned home. It was while taking case of his son that Mr. James contracted the disease which resulted in his death. Two years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and so he was in a somewhat weakened condition unable to stand the illness which came later.

The funeral will be held at Garland.

EDUCATION BOARD MET IN THE EAST

Report of Jubilee Showed $35,000,000 Added to Institutions—Still Larger Needs—Commission Will Meet Soon.

Dr. J. R. Harker returned last night from New York City, where he has been for nearly two weeks past in attendance at the sessions of the board of education of the Methodist church. The sessions were of more than usual interest because of the important educational problems that came up for consideration. One of the interesting events of the conference was the report by J. W. Hancher on the educational jubilee campaign which has just been concluded and covered a period of eight years.

Will Publish Report.

During this campaign the sum of $35,000,000 was added to the endowment and plants of the various educational institutions of Methodism. Dr. Hancher was authorized to publish a full memorial volume report of the educational jubilee, giving a complete history of the plan and the details as worked out, together with the amounts added to the endowment or equipment of the various institutions.

A careful survey made of 48 colleges, 7 theological seminaries, 5 universities and 45 secondary schools which are under control of Methodism shows that $50,000,000 is still needed to bring these institutions up to the point of 100 per cent efficiency. A committee was named to complete this survey and to supply all the details with reference to needs of the institutions and to make this report to the general conference in 1920. With this as the basis, it is expected that another committee will be appointed for the conduct of the campaign to secure the $50,000,000 the survey already made indicates as the needed amount. Dr. Harker was made a member of this committee.

Commission to Meet

Enroute home Dr. Harker was in Chicago and in conference with Bishop Nicholson. The bishop has called a meeting of the commission which was appointed to consider the interests of Methodist institutions of the state. This meeting will be held in Chicago January 6 and the primary purpose is to consider the proposed moving of Illinois Wesleyan university from Bloomington to Springfield. While the commission was appointed for the special purpose of considering this need, it is also charged with passing on the need of all Methodist educational institutions in the state. Dr. Harker has been requested to prepare a complete statement with reference to Illinois Woman's College showing its needs as to additional equipment and to plant for the next twenty years.

MRS. SARAH DEATON DIED IN ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Sarah B. Deaton, wife of Nathan W. Deaton passed away at the family home in St. Louis, Mo., Monday morning at 6:40 o'clock. Her husband was a former resident of Jacksonville and the deceased was also well known to the older residents of the city.

Deceased was a Miss Bruner and was born in Alton, Ill., in 1866. Most of her life was spent in St. Louis. She and her husband had been close friends for many years and were united in marriage in St. Louis six years ago. Her father was one of the oldest Odd Fellows in Missouri and Mrs. Deaton was a member of Martha Washington Lodge Rebekahs.

Mrs. Deaton lived a beautiful Christian life and thru her long illness was ever cheerful and ready when the call of the Master came.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home, 4508 Clayton avenue in charge of the Rev. R. S. S. Putney, pastor of the Episcopal church of St. Phillip and the Rebekahs.

It is probable that Mr. Deaton will come to Jacksonville again to take up his residence .

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN AFTER WAR WORK

Will aid Returning Soldiers in Finding Jobs—Special Christmas Plans.

The Knights of Columbus, who with other organizations did such splendid work at cantonments and war fronts, is to aid returning soldiers in finding employment. All the details of the plan have not yet been worked out according to information received by John J. Ferry, district deputy, but the organization is attempting this work in a definite way. The K. C. activities will supplement those of the government along the same line. The national council of the K. C. in a letter indicates something of the plans for Christmas day overseas.

As a special feature of the day rolling camp stoves will be used by secretaries and chaplains and every Yankee soldier will have hot plum pudding as a part of his Christmas dinner. This service will all be without cost to the men and the various supplies which are to be distributed as Christmas gifts will include 5,000 packages of cigarettes, 1,000 cigars, 5,000 pounds of hard candy, 5,000 pounds of chocolates, 2,000 pieces of soap, 2,000 towels, 1500 rosaries 1,500 prayer books and 1500 scalpulars.

The same letter from the national council which gives these details mentions a number of incidents of secretaries or chaplains of the Knights of Columbus who have been decorated for bravery on the battle field. In a number of instances these men became so imbued with the war spirit that they seized guns from the hands of fallen Yanks and fought side by side with the soldiers.

The Springfield News-Record, the only evening paper published at the state capital, has established an agency in Jacksonville.

This paper was formed in January, 1915, by the consolidation of two evening papers, the Springfield Evening News and Springfield Record. It has enjoyed a very rapid growth, and has established itself as one of the leading papers of the state. It is the only paper in the state outside of Chicago operating two leased wires at the same time. It has full Associated Press franchise as well as the full leased wire service of the International News Service. It also maintains its own Washington News Bureau in the Post Building, Washington D. C.

The News-Record has made a specialty of publishing a great deal of news from central Illinois and Morgan county. It employs over 100 correspondents in the principal cities and towns within a seventy mile radius of Springfield.

NO SUNDAY SCHOOL SERVICES UNTIL LATER

Ministers Will Take Up Regular Church Routine Gradually—Only One Service Next Sunday.

At a recent meeting members of the Jacksonville Ministerial association decided to hold but one service in each of the churches of the city next Sunday. It was voted not to have Sunday school, and in fact no other services during the day except at the regular morning hour.

Since the children are not going back into school until Jan 2, the ministers thought it would possibly be wise not to have them assemble in the Sunday schools for at least another week. There will be no Christmas entertainments in the churches but in a number of Sunday schools the officers have arranged to have the children come to the church doors, and there distribute candy and fruit.

Another action taken was in designating Sunday, Jan. 5, as "Go to Church Sunday." Something of a campaign of publicity will be waged before the date mentioned and the churches will make a special effort to have all the members in attendance on "Go to Church Sunday" and to make the day one of such interest that the work of the next few months may be inaugurated with a rekindled enthusiasm.

C. C. BRIDGMAN DIED THURSDAY MORNING

Well Known Chapin Resident Passed Away—Was Native of Tennessee — Funeral Saturday Morning.

Chapin, Dec. 19.—Christopher Columbus Bridgman a well known resident of Chapin, died at his home here this morning at 8:50 o'clock.

Deceased was born in Granger county, east Tennessee, December 20, 1839, lacking one day of being 79 years old. When he was 13 years of age his parents came to Morgan county where he has since resided.

He was united in marriage in 1852 to Miss Emma Gledhill. To this union was born seven children who all survive. They are: Mrs. T. R. Biggers of Crystal City, Texas; Robert Bridgman of Chapin, Mrs. T. J. Clements of New London, Iowa; Mrs. Belle Knopp and Horace Bridgman of Chapin, Mrs. Charles Craig of Kansas City, and Mrs. R. H. Ham of Chapin.

His first wife died in 1883 and he was again married in 1885 to Mrs. Elizabeth Wolford of Chapin.

He leaves the following brothers and sisters: William Bridgman of Decatur, Mrs. Amanda Williams of Chapin, Henry Bridgman of Moweaqua, Mrs. Alonzo Guthridge of Farmer City, Mrs. Alex Patterson of Jacksonville, Mrs. Laura White of Woodson and John Bridgman of Jacksonville. One sister, Alice, preceded him in death.

Mr. Bridgman was a faithful member of the Chapin M. P. church. He took an active interest in the work of the church and was always a regular attendant at services when health permitted. He was a man of strict honesty and integrity and one who commanded the respect of the entire community in which he lived.

Sergt. Rodgers Tells About Peace Day in France.

E. P. Alexander, secretary of Elks lodge No. 682 in this city, is in receipt of the following letter from H. Jay Rodgers of the 33d Military Police Co. in France. The writer gives an interesting description of the events which took place on Nov. 11 at the place where he was located. He says: "There was a large fort overlooking the city from a high hill and promptly at eleven o'clock, accompanied at it were by the ring ing of every bell in town, the French flag was raised for the first time since 1914." His letter reads as follows:

November 12, 1918.

E. P. Alexander, Secy.,
B. P. O. E., 682,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Brother Ed:

The significance of the hour of eleven has increased. It is now something that is to be celebrated internationally.

I had the good fortune to be in a S. O. S. city, in the rear area, on the 11th, ala motor truck. There was a large fort over-looking the city from a high hill and promptly at eleven o'clock, accompanied, as it were, by the ringing of every bell in town, the French flag was raised for the first time since 1914. That was the official announcement to the city that an Armistice had been arranged, and that hostilities were at an end.

Flags appeared in windows, on motor cars, on people's hats, everywhere, in about a minute. By noon a full fledged celebration was going strong. A band (one of us) played national airs about every other piece, and my busines was somewhat interfered with by standing at salute so often. Altho it meant traveling after dark (and that's no fun, without lights on crowded roads) we delayed our departure for home (?) for a couple of hours in order to see more of the celebration.

On the trip home we passed thru several places where fireworks and lighted show windows were an unusual sight. (Every civilian cart that I saw had a barrel in it (Ha!—?).

In a recent letter from "Pop" there was the Elk card "to the end of the war." Thanks old man but you failed to fill in the "1918."

It never has been my pleasure while in France, to attend anything of the nature of an Elk meeting, but I am proud to claim with a certainty that I am an Elk.

Give my best regards to the boys and tell them that I, for one am looking forward to the day (or night) that I can "make an alarm at the outer door."

Sometime back we moved into a "bivy", about 1 a. m. to find Vas's gang already there. He practiced brotherly love by finding, or rather offering me a good bed and a place to stay. We had a good time until, a few days later—he moved in a heavy rain on about half an hour's notice.

Good luck to you,
Fraternally,
Sergt. H. Jay Rodgers.

From Ralph Cruzan.

Mrs. E. E. Cruzan of 885 West Morton avenue has just received the following letter from her husband, Ralph Cruzan, written from an English convalescent camp. The writer was wounded shortly before the war ended by a piece of shrapnel which entered his left hand, and following a week's stay in a hospital was sent to the English camp for a few days' rest. His letter follows.

November, 14, 1918.

Dear Wife and Folks at Home:-

Will drop you a few lines to let you know I am well as usual.

Well, before the war was over, I was in a big drive and got a piece of shrapnel in my left hand. I was in the hospital for a week and am now in an English convalescent camp for a few days' rest. I like it fine here and we are certainly treated fine by the British soldiers. My hand is almost well now and I think I will soon be back with my company, at least I hope so.

I have never heard from you since I left the States, on account of being changed around so much but I hope this finds you all well I would write this to Mamie tho I don't know whether she is in Jacksonville or no; so if she isn't you can send this letter to her as soon as you see it.

Now that the war is over I don't know just when they will send us home but I hope we get back by Christmas, and by the way things look we wil be home anyway before next March.

Well, I will close for this time. Hoping I can get some mail soon from you I remain as ever.

With love to all.
Ralph Cruzan.

From Private Reuben Moore

Mrs. C. S. Roach of route 5, this county, is in receipt of the following letter written by her brother, Private Reuben Moore, who is a member of Co. K. 152nd Infantry, with the American forces overseas:

October 25, 1918.

Dear Sister:-

Well, I will write you again tonight as I just received two letters and was glad to hear from home. It was the first time since I have ben over here. I write to you every week, but don't know if you have received all of them or not.

So Nute went to K. C. at last. What is Mattie going to do? You wanted to know if I got seasick. I did not. We were on the water twelve days and was glad to get on land again. Has Clay and Chet got their tractor yet? I was sorry to hear of Uncle Edgar's death. I suppose Joe went out there.

I suppose your canary bird and yellow dog kep you plenty of company. You wanted Bob to write. He is not with me now, he has been transferred and his address is Co. M, 127 Inf. American Ex. Forces, A. P. O. 734.

I heard that the people in the States had to leave their cars in on Sundays. I guess you hate that. You said for me not to get stuck on these French girls, and I don't think there is much danger of that, or I have not seen any yet. I guess Clay is getting ready to shuck corn. How long did Lizzie stay up at your house?

Anna, if you don't hear from me regular, don't be surprised for we are on the move most of the time, but you keep on writing and I will write every chance I get.

I guess you had a good time at the chatauqua this year. Wish I had been there to go. Anna, that stuff you have got for me, don't try to send it for I have got more now than I can take care of Just keep it for me till I get back Tell Mattie Woods that I thank her for the things she gave you for me. Well, Sis, I have written about all I know, so will close for this time.

With love to all,
Reuben Moore.

OBITUARY OF MRS. J. N. WARD.

Rebecca Jane Kinman, daughter of Col. William and Ann Shinn Kinman, was born in Pike, County, Ill., tho the family moved to Morgan county when she was but a child. She graduated at the Illinois Woman's College and was a special student at the Athenaeum. For several years she taught at the Woman's College and in the public schools of Jacksonville.

A woman of versatile mind and broad interests, Mrs. Ward identified herself with public and civic movements, in addition to her activities in club and church work. She was a charter member of the Jacksonville Woman's Club and for 16 years served on its executive board either as officer or committee chairman. She was a member of the Monday Conversation Club. She served on the Passavant Hospital board and was active in its behalf. She has been for many years an alumnae trustee of the Illinois Woman's College, serving as first treasurer of the Memorial Scholarship Fund since she conceived the idea of having memorial scholarships to the former presidents established by the alumnae. In the campaigns for prohibition in this city Mrs. Ward was one of the leaders, and on invitation spoke in behalf of the movement in several neighboring towns and cities.

In the church she has always been a devoted worker. For many years she was at the head of the primary department of Grace Church, and in later years taught a class of College girls. The Foreign Missionary Society and the Aid Society have claimed her as a worker and an offiver.

About a year ago failing health demanded her removal to a milder climate and she made her home in St. Petersburg, Fla. Tho her bodily strength failed she never lost interest in any forward movement of the day.

She died in St. Petersburg, Dec. 14. She is survived by her husband, Mr. John Newton Ward, two daughters, Hiss Helen of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. F. H. H. Calhoun of Clemson College, S. C., and two grandsons, John Ward Calhoun and Fred Calhoun, Jr., of Clemson, S. C.

The body will be placed in the receiving vault in St. Petersburg until definite arrangements can be made.

Stop Coughing!

The simplest and best way to stop coughing is to take

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

In it, you get the curative influence of the pine tar and other healing ingredients, together with the mollifying laxative effect of the honey. It puts a soothing coating on the inflamed tickling throat, allays bronchial irritation, raises phlegm easily, stops hard wearing coughs and nervous hacking.

W. S. Bailey, Lancaster, Ky., writes:—"My wife contracted a severe cold, which developed into a bronchial trouble, and she coughed almost continually. One-half bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar slacked up her cough and she rested much better at night. She continued its use until it effected a cure."

PATRIOTIC SERVICE LEAGUE

Neither meetings nor classes will be held until after the first of January, but every member of the League should read the following letter from Mrs. Langworthy, State Chairman, Recreation for Girls.

Any information regarding girls out of work because the cessation of war activities may be telephoned to the League offices or the County Chairman and all possible assistance will be given. Any member of the League who is out of work from any cause may also thus be assisted where it is possible.

The last part of the letter should be carefuly pondered. We may do either great good or great harm to these returned soldiers. Let us be sure we understand the situation and do our part for good.

December 16th, 1918.

Dear League Members:-

On every side we hear the question, "What are you going to do in the way of reconstruction after the war?" It seems to me that as young women mobilized for patriotic service we should assume a direct responsibility, on at least two specific lines. First, in regard to the young women in the community in which we live; many of these have given up good positions to take on war work which will cease within a few months if it has not already done so. In the economic world it is not going to be quite so easy to regain the positions formerly given up, after the boys come back. It may well become the duty of each League to see that every young woman thus thrown out of work, in the community, shall be again advantageously replaced in a good position. This may take some active work, possibly some self-sacrifice, but it is a good piece of constructive work.

Second, in regard to the returned soldier; we have heard a great deal about the morale of the men, and its tendency to drop after the stimulation of war necessity is gone. These men after many months of intense excitement, danger, and in many cases injuries, are coming back either with a feeling that their debt to the world i paid, and that there is a little more to be demanded of them, or on the other hand, that the men remaining behind have taken their places, and that there is not much left for them to work for. In either case, it is our duty to make them feel a warm but not over-effusive appreciation of the wonderful service they have rendered; and also the necessity for their reassuming their places in the economic world: because their experience in foreign countries has, of course, opened to them even greater opportunities in our own business and social life. In other words, we must not let them "drop" in their attitude of responsibility to their community This we understand, has been the case in Canada and England and may easily become so here unless the young women of the nation, who have more influence over these men than anyone else, shall with great sympathy, care and conscientiousness keep before them unobstrusively this great necessity.

More than anyone else in the country, these young women have in their hands the reconstruction of the world; for they are not only the good friends of these returning soldiers, but the future wives and mothers of America.

Our confidence in you is unbounded, and our dependence upon you and your spirit is very great; let us feel that it is well placed.

Mary L. Longworthy.

The following is an extract from a letter from Mrs. P. J. Haldeman, acting vice chairman, re-creation for girls:

"Just now the sailors are in need of knitted things, especially sweaters and scarfs. They also appreciate comforts kits. They may be either fitted or unfitted.

"There is still a great need for relief sewing, utilizing old garments—for the refugees of the occupied Allied countries. The Red Cross has just recently sent out a call for books and magazines to be sent to the base hospitals."

Purely re-creational activities should be encouraged too, for all work and not play makes Jack a dull boy. This applies equally to Jacksonville.

For Itching Torture

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads in most cases give way to zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 35c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

MERRIGAN'S

SUCCESSFUL FARMING

A very well known farmer of this county was telling a Journal reporter yesterday some of the reasons for good crops. This year his entire corn ground, forty acres, will yield sixty bushels to the acre and in ordinary years would have one far more. His wheat crop averaged 45 bushels to the acre and other crops in proportion. He furnishes seed and pays for half the threshing of small grain and requires all the straw to be returned to the land. Corn stubble he cuts in the fall and plows the ground eight inches deep or even more and then generally a discing in the spring puts it in fine shape for a crop. He never plants two crops of corn in succession but follows one with small grain and often clover and his neighbors say his land is too rich but that is a fault he hopes to perpetuate a long time to come.

ROBERT REXROAT OF CANTON HURT

The following from a Canton paper refers to a former resident of this county:

Robert Rexroat, who injured his eye something like eleven weeks ago, by striking it with a weed, went to Chicago Sunday to consult with a leading specialist and after the examination was told that while the sight was entirely gone in that eye, it was thought that the other eye sight could be saved and without having to remove the eyeball of the injured eye. The exact outcome cannot be told as yet, but the first examination was very encouraging. Ed T. Wolfe accompanied him returning home last night.

Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

What the Ammeter Tells

How much current does your battery give?

How much does it get?

The answer to both these questions is revealed in the swing of the little ammeter needle. Its motion is the only thing that can tell you how your electrical system behaves on the road.

We'll gladly show you how you can read the ammeter's message.

Ask us, while you're here, for the booklet "A Mark with a Meaning for You." It tells what the Willard Mark stands for.

We test, repair and recharge batteries, and always carry a full supply of battery parts, new batteries and rental batteries.

The United Gas Engine!

The engine that fills every requirement, the engine that pleases more the longer you use it, the engine that has built up the largest number of sales and given more universal satisfaction than any gas engine on the market.

Every farmer needs a gas engine if he figures on convenience and cheap help. The gas engine is the greatest all around worker you can have. It only needs attention when working, and costs nothing to keep when idle.

Our special price is of interest to all live, wide-awake farmers. Another big car of United Gas Engines with high tension magneto, just in.

A good Christmas present would be a United Gas Engine and Power Washing Machine.

DECEMBER AND JANUARY CORN HIGHER

CMICAGO, Dec. 19.—Prospects that a squeeze might be encountered in filling contracts for nearby deliveries had a strengthening effect today on December and January corn but later months were inclined to sag. The close was unsettled, January $1.36¾ @$1.36⅞ and May $1.34⅞ @$1.35, with the market as a whole ¾c off to 1¾c up compared with yesterday's finish. Oats lost ¼c@⅝c. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 35c lower.

Bulls in corn put emphasis on th efact that stocks of corn here amounted to virtually nothing. Temperatures were unseasonably high, a circumstances which counted against any heavy movement of the crop during the near future.

Slowness of export call and of domestic shipping sales tended to depress cats. Continued excessive marketing of hogs had a weakening influence on provisions. Despite big shipments of lard and meats buyers were extra cautious.

Furnished by James E. Bennett Co. 333 West State St., Huntoon Bldg.

TRADING IN SECURITIES DULL
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Trading in securities during the greater part of today's session was dull to the point of stagnation the stock market itself being after overshadowed by further persistent liquidation of Liberty bonds. This condition experienced a sudden transformation in the final hour when heavy selling of rails effected extreme reversals of two to four points.
The outpouring of transportation issues was unaccompanied by any explanation other than a statement issued by Director General McAdoo which again emphasized the possibility of extending federal control over the railways an five years.
Transactions in Liberty bonds attained enormous proportions the 4¼s going to a new low record 94.72, a depreciation of about 3¼ ercent from their initial quotation.
Various theories were advanced in explanation of the further break in Liberty bonds bore mainly on the cash requirements of corporations and institutions early in the coming year.
U. S. Steel made a better showing than other industrials and equipments forfeiting only a large traction. Total sales 400,000 shares.
Traction bond issues were heavy with Liberty bonds, but the international group held steady. Total sales aggregated $20,500,000.
